42. Further Description of Important Interior and Exterior Features (Continued on Reverse if Necessary) This simple, vernacular, side gable, side hallway house features a door at the right of the front/east facade. It has Colonial Revival elements. The wood door has a window in its upper half. Concrete steps with a metal railing lead up to the door, which is shaded by a wooden, gable hood that has simple wood brackets below it. A large 1/1 double hung window is located to the left of the door. Two 1/1 windows are situated in the second story. The south elevation has an exterior chimney running through the center of the gable and the brick of the chimney has been painted. The first story of the elevation has a 6/6 window to the right of the chimney, and at the second story, 6/6 windows are to the left and right of the chimney. The north elevation has a 1/1 at the far left of the first story and a smaller 1/1 at the far right. A small window is near the center of the first story. The second story has a 1/1 window at the left. This elevation features the gable end, which extends farther down on the right side, giving the house a hint of a saltbox appearance.
43. History and Significance (Continue on Reverse if necessary) The first occupant of this house was not listed in city directories until 1929, possibly indicating that this older style house was moved to this location. The first known residents in 1929 included Floyd Mills (b. 1904) and his wife Dora M. (b. 1904). Floyd was a laborer and hospital orderly. They had children named Arthur F. (b. 1925), Robert W. (b. 1926), Deloris A. (b. 1927), and Elizabeth J. (b. 1929). The house was listed as vacant from 1933-1936 until Arlis Leslie Bungard was listed at this address in 1937. A. L. Bungard (b. 1884) was a carpenter and married Sevilla Emily (nee Scott, b. 1886). They only have one child listed during 1937, which was probably their youngest son Marion William (b. 1921), although they had five other children. Marion William was a corporal during continued...
44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings (See #52) The original, one-car garage has a front gable and wood, clapboard siding. A wood fence is located at the rear of the house. This house is located on a residential street that receives little traffic.
